

Control in Organizations (10 Marks)

◆ Introduction

- Control is the process of ensuring that activities are performed as planned.
-

◆ Meaning

- It involves monitoring, comparing, and correcting performance.
-

◆ Steps in Control Process

1. Setting standards
 2. Measuring performance
 3. Comparing with standards
 4. Taking corrective action
-

◆ Types of Control

1. Feedforward Control

- Before work begins
-

2. Concurrent Control

- During the work
-

3. Feedback Control

- After work completion

◆ Importance of Control

- Ensures goals are achieved
- Maintains discipline
- Improves performance
- Detects errors
- Helps in decision-making

◆ Limitations of Control

- Costly
- Time-consuming
- May reduce flexibility

◆ Conclusion

- Control is essential for organizational success and efficiency
-